How to send money to Briercrest directly

Many students request to send us large sums of money directly from their own banks, often from other countries, but also from Canada.

For those who do not wish to use a credit card or do not have access to cheques, there is an alternative to sending your money to Briercrest. It is called a Bank-to-Bank transfer (also known as a Wire transfer).

Listed below is the Briercrest information necessary to process a Bank-to-Bank transfer. One simply needs to take this information to their own bank and request a transfer of funds from their personal account. In addition to the financial transaction, notification is requested on our part of any monies being transferred to us.

Because so many students use this option, it is recommended that you make us aware of the transaction either prior to, or immediately afterwards, so that we can look for the deposit into our account and then properly transfer the funds to your student account. Notification can be made either directly to the Admissions Office, or to the Finance Office at Briercrest (both offices information listed below). Please include the date, $$ amount, and the student's name that the deposit should be credited to so that we can be sure to look after things on our end.

Some things to remember when transferring funds to Briercrest are that this is a Canadian Dollar account and your bank will have to convert your own currency (if not Canadian) into Canadian dollars to transfer it into our account. Also, the bank normally charges a $10.00-15.00 CDN service charge to process a transfer, so when an exact payment is made this should be taken into consideration.
